Partnership Opportunities

BUILD YOUR TEAM. BUILD YOUR COMMUNITY.

RISING TO THE CHALLENGE TOGETHER

Be a positive force for change in our community.

Affordable housing is at the heart of a strong, thriving community. When families have a safe, stable place to live, everything else follows – stronger schools, a more reliable workforce, and neighborhoods filled with energy and opportunity.

Right now, Vermont is facing a housing crisis that's putting that stability at risk. Home prices are out of reach for many working families, nearly half of renters are stretched by housing costs, and too many people are being priced out of the communities they call home. The need is real – and it's urgent.

Green Mountain Habitat for Humanity is growing to meet this challenge. As housing pressures intensify, we are scaling our construction capacity to serve more of the essential workers who make Vermont run – the teachers, caregivers, tradespeople, and early-career professionals who form the heart of our towns.

We are stepping up, building more homes for the people who keep our communities running. But we can't do it alone. Join us. Your partnership helps create stability for local families and builds a stronger, more resilient Northwest Vermont for everyone.

WHY PARTNER WITH HABITAT?

Invest in community impact

Since 1984, Green Mountain Habitat for Humanity has helped build stronger communities across Northwest Vermont by partnering with families to create safe, affordable homes. Those we serve represent the backbone of Vermont – teachers, caregivers, tradespeople, and early-career professionals – people who make our communities work. When you partner with us, you can be confident that your support is making a difference for hardworking families in our region and helping to solve the housing challenge that may be affecting many of your employees.

Employee satisfaction and engagement

Our Team Build Days offer meaningful, hands-on opportunities for employees to step outside the workplace and make a visible difference in the community. These experiences foster teamwork, boost morale, and leave participants with a lasting sense of pride in the impact they've made.

Powerful brand recognition

As part of the trusted global network of Habitat for Humanity, our partners benefit from strong brand credibility and visibility. Through sponsorship recognition, community engagement, and storytelling opportunities, your company can demonstrate its commitment to strengthening the communities where your employees and customers live and work.
